STUDY NOTES · BASIC CONCEPT

What is the Pradhan Mantri Bal Puraskar?

Defence & Security

25 Dec 2027

Pradhan Mantri Bal Puraskar

The Pradhan Mantri Bal Puraskar is India’s highest civilian award for children. It is given to children below 18 years of age who have shown exceptional courage, talent, or achievement in different fields.

When was it introduced?

The award was restructured and renamed in 2018. Earlier, it was known as the National Bravery Award. It is presented every year on Republic Day, 26 January.

BECOME IAS
AI-Powered UPSC Preparation by ZINKPOT

Categories of the Award

The award is given in five main categories:

- Bravery – For showing exceptional courage in difficult or dangerous situations
- Innovation – For creativity, inventions, or scientific achievements
- Social Service – For outstanding contribution to society
- Art and Culture – For excellence in art, music, dance, or cultural activities
- Sports – For outstanding performance in sports at national or international level

What Do Awardees Receive?

- A medal
- A certificate
- A cash prize
- Opportunity to participate in Republic Day celebrations
- National recognition

Who Is Eligible?

- Indian citizens
- Age between 5 and 18 years
- Must have shown exceptional courage, talent, or social contribution

Why Is It Important?

The Pradhan Mantri Bal Puraskar recognizes young achievers and encourages children to contribute positively to society. It highlights the power of youth and inspires others to follow their example.

BECOME IAS
AI-Powered UPSC Preparation by ZINKPOT