Modern History · GS - II

Discuss the significance of India's bilateral diplomatic engagements on the sidelines of multilateral forums such as the G20 in advancing its foreign policy objectives.

EXAM YEAR	PAPER	SUBJECT
DAILY PRACTICE 31/10/2026	GS - II	Modern History

MARKS	WORD LIMIT
10	~150 words

Answer Hint

Bilateral diplomacy; strategic partnerships; trade and investment; security cooperation; global governance; climate change; food security; India's multilateral role

Model Answer

Introduction

India's bilateral engagements on the sidelines of multilateral forums such as the G20 complement its broader diplomatic strategy. They provide opportunities to strengthen partnerships while addressing shared global challenges.

Significance of Bilateral Engagements

1. Strengthening diplomatic relations: Direct interactions with foreign ministers build mutual trust and facilitate regular political dialogue.
2. Economic cooperation: Discussions on trade, investment, technology and supply chains can create opportunities for economic partnerships.

3. Security cooperation: Bilateral dialogue supports coordination on counter-terrorism, maritime security and emerging security challenges.
4. Global challenges: Engagement on climate change, food security and geopolitical tensions helps identify areas of common interest.
5. Multilateral influence: Such interactions enable India to build consensus and promote the interests of developing countries in global institutions.

Way Forward

India should translate diplomatic discussions into concrete agreements, strengthen institutional follow-up mechanisms and maintain balanced relations with diverse partners.

Conclusion

Bilateral diplomacy alongside multilateral summits expands India's strategic options and reinforces its role as an active participant in global governance.

BECOME IAS
AI POWERED UPSC PREP