Defence & Security · GS - III

Examine the challenges involved in deploying Central Armed Police Forces in conflict-affected regions such as Manipur. How can security operations be balanced with confidence-building and long-term peacebuilding measures?

EXAM YEAR	PAPER	SUBJECT
DAILY PRACTICE 16/11/2026	GS - III	Defence & Security

MARKS	WORD LIMIT
10	~150 words

Answer Hint

CRPF deployment, ethnic conflict, internal security, Centre-state coordination, civil administration, intelligence sharing, crowd management, human rights, displacement, community engagement, rehabilitation, peace dialogue.

Model Answer

Introduction

The deployment of Central Armed Police Forces in conflict-affected regions reflects the challenges of maintaining public order amid ethnic tensions and internal security disturbances.

Major Challenges

Security forces face difficulties arising from community mistrust, geographical constraints, localised violence and the risk of escalation. Forces redeployed from other operational theatres may also require adaptation to different security environments. Coordination between central forces, state police and civil administration is essential.

Balancing Security and Peacebuilding

Security operations must remain impartial, proportionate and consistent with human rights standards. Intelligence sharing, effective crowd management and protection of vulnerable populations are crucial. Alongside security measures, sustained political dialogue, community-level confidence-building, rehabilitation of displaced persons and accountability mechanisms are necessary.

Conclusion

Deployment of security forces can help restore immediate stability, but durable peace requires addressing underlying grievances through inclusive dialogue, institutional trust and reconciliation.

BECOME IAS
AI POWERED UPSC PREP